CADETS WINCE AT DICK'S SARCASM

Witness Admits Cruel Hazing of Mac-Arthur.

A TORRENT OF ADJECTIVES

Congressman Driggs Exhausts His Voluminous Vocabulary in Abuse of Treatment of Fourth Classmen at Military Academy.

(By Associated Press.)
WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 16.—The Congressional Investigation Committee togressional Investigation Committee to-day went down to the bottom of the haz-ing practiced at the academy during the last four years, and the inquiry will be imished before the end of the week. Cadets Manaftey, Dockery, and Pegram were examined to-day very vigorously by Congressman Wanger, Driggs, Smith and Clayton.

General Dick, of Ohio, questioned them General Dick, of Ohlo, questioned them in his quiot, suave manner, and then let lose his torrents of scathing sarcasm, making every witness wince. All three witnesses left in a worse state of mind and body than if they tiad just been compelled to go through the entire curriculum of hazing.

Cadet Birchie O. Mahaffey, of Texas, said he had heard of the hazing of MacArthur and Brinton, who fainted from severe exercising. He said Cadets Dock-

Russell, Bell, Carpenter and Tyler might give some information about these hazings. He said when he was a fourth-class man the worst hazers were Cadets Bender and Lane, who were the said and Cadets Bettison and dismissed, and Cadets Bettison and Meyer, of the present first-class. He had hazed men himself. He had never heard of a fourth-class man winning in a fist fight with a higher class man. ADMITTED CRUELTY.

Cadet Dockery, of Mississippi, admitted he had oxercised young MacArthur. He had not been braced hard enough, he ex-had not been braced hard chough, he caplained.

"You are satisfied you hazed Mr. MacArthur and that he was sick, in fact had convulsions after it?" said Mr. Driggs.

"Did you think it was cruel?"

"Well, young man, for your information I will tell you that I think it was atrocious, detestable, disgraceful, dishonorable cious, detestable, disgracetur, dishonorable, disreputable, heinous, ignominious, ill-famed, nefarious, odious, outrageous, scan-dalous, shameful, shameless, villianous and wicked," exclaimed Mr. Driggs.

Witness admitted it was cruel and un soldierly to exercise a man into convul-General Dick made the witness admit that he was worried and went to Mac-Arthur's tent. It was dark and he could just see MacArthur lying still on his bed, and that, fearing detection, MacArthur was allowed to lie there without medical aid. "What became of Haskeyy, who was hazed at the same time as McArthur?"

"I also heard that he was sick too, sir,

but I did not see him."

UNMANLY METHODS.

General Dick scored him heavily for taking part in unmanly methods of practically forcing a new-comer to sure defeat and a sound drubbing at the hands of a picked representative of an upper class.

Cadet John C. Pegram, of Virginia, a second class man, testified he had given Cadet Brown 150 eagles and could take 150 himself. On November 5 last he had fought with F. H. Smith, of the third class, in the barracks, was awarded the fight on a foul, but was in the hospital for

To-night Pegram testified to having exercised Cadet Kensel to a fainting con-dition. He said Kensel was only sham-dition. He said Kenter was only iming. He had seen Cadet Haskel lying in a faint in the sink.

Referring to the MacArthur incident, when the young man was in convulsions, Mr. Wanger asked Pegram if he had seen cotton placed in MacArthur's mouth in order that his means m'ght not be n order that his moans might not be heard by any of the officers.
"I heard some one asking for cotton.

but I cannot say that it was procured or used. I believe that MacArthur's moans were stifled."

MacArthur was not hazed after that, J. B. Barry, who had hazed MacArthur, was rather careless in not ascertaining in advance whether MacArthur had been hazed previously.

VOLLEY OF ADJECTIVES.

Mr. Driggs shot a volley of adjectives at the witness and asked him if he did of think that all or any of them would be applicable in describing the inhumality shown by the cadets who hazed Mac-Aritur and Kenzel. Pegram said he did not.

General Dick read some letters written by former Cadet Booz, and when he read where Booz spoke of the report against him for facing in the wrong direction, when relieving guard, Pegram said:

"Booz lied in his answer to that com-plaint. I was present at the time with Corporal Caples, who made the report." This assertion on the part of the wit-ness did not strike the chairman as being charitable, and he tried to get the wit-ness to admit this, but Pegram was adamant.

At the conclusion of his testimony Pegram said he did not think that the fighting should be done away with at the academy, but General Dick made it quite clear that he did not agree with the oung cadet.

IT ALWAYS ALLAYS OF PREVENTS THE DISTRESSING NAUSEA, stimulating the kidneys and helping them throw off effete matter.' Dr. William T. Howard, former Professor of the Diseases of Women and Children in the University of Maryland, Baltimore, attests the common adaptation of the Spring now known as Spring No. 1 in "a wide range of cases" with that of the far-famed White Sulphur Springs, in Greenbrier County, West Va., and adds the following:

"Indeed, in a certain class of cases it is much superior to the latter. I allude to the abiding debility attendant upon tardy convalescence from grave acute diseases, and more especially to the CACHEXIA and SEQUELS incident to MALARIOUS FEVERS in all their grades and varieties; to certain forms of Atonic Dyspepsia, and all the affections Peculiar to Women that are remediable at all by Mineral Waters—in short, were I called upon to state from what Mineral Waters I have seen the greatest and most unmistakable amount of good accrue in the largest number of cases, in a general way, I would unhesitatingly say the Buffalo Lithia Spring, in Mecklenburg County, Virginia."

Spring No. 1 is both a Nerve and a Blood Tonic, and wherever there is paucity or poverty of the Blood, or where there is Nervous Debility or Exhaustion, is especially indicated. In the absence of these symptoms No. 2 is generally preferred.

BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is for sale by Grocers and Druggists generally. Testimonials, which defy all imputation or questions, sent to any address. PROPRIETOR BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS, VIRGINIA,
